THE WORLD BIBLIOGRAPHICAL SERIES

This series, which is principally designed for the English speaker, will eventually cover every country in the world, each in a separate volume comprising annotated entries on works dealing with its history, geography, economy and politics; and with its people, their culture, customs, religion and social organization. Attention will also be paid to current living conditions – housing, education, newspapers, clothing, etc. – that are all too often ignored in standard bibliographies; and to those particular aspects relevant to individual countries. Each volume seeks to achieve, by use of careful selectivity and critical assessment of the literature, an expression of the country and an appreciation of its nature and national aspirations, to guide the reader towards an understanding of its importance. The keynote of the series is to provide, in a uniform format, an interpretation of each country that will express its culture, its place in the world, and the qualities and background that make it unique.

the date, and the work is organized around the following subjects, some with further subdivisions: literature and travel; history; local geography; administration; economy, colonization and regional studies; the natives; missions and religious activity; soils and climate; hydrography, lighthouses, the sea, fisheries; agriculture; animal husbandry; health and hygiene; education; ports and railways; surveying; statistics; publicity; and, inevitably, miscellaneous.

734 Relatórios e artigos sobre Moçambique nas colecções do Centro de Estudos Africanos. (Reports and articles about Mozambique in the collections of the Centre of African Studies.)
Maputo: Centro de Estudos Africanos, 1980. 18p. (Boletim bibliográfico, no. 1).

This, the first and, at the time of writing, the last, bibliographical bulletin of the Centre of African Studies (CEA) includes 140 references, organized in a broad subject classification, with no indexes. On the publications of the CEA, see the evaluative note by Michel Cahen 'Publications du Centro de Estudos Africanos de l'Université Eduardo Mondlane, Maputo, Mozambique' Politique Africaine no. 5 (1982), p. 113–15; Cahen also makes some comments on the CEA's documentation activities, as well as on other Mozambican libraries and centres in his 'Portuguese colonialism in Mozambique – Le colonialisme portugais au Mozambique' Bulletin de Liaison du CREDU [Nairobi] no. 9 (Dec. 1981), p. 40–47, published in parallel English/French texts.

735 Catálogo dos periódicos moçambicanos precedido de uma pequena notícia histórica: 1854–1984. (Catalogue of Mozambican periodicals, preceded by a short historical note: 1854–1984.)
António Jorge Diniz Sopa. Trabalho de diploma for the Licenciatura, Arquivo Histórico de Moçambique, Universidade Eduardo Mondlane, 1985. 327p.

This computer-compiled catalogue is a major contribution to Mozambican critical and historical bibliography, by the librarian in charge of the book and periodical collections at the Historical Archive. The most comprehensive work in its field, this catalogue will, when published, certainly replace Ilídio Rocha's Catálogo dos periódicos e principais seriados de Moçambique [Catalogue of the periodicals and principal serial publications of Mozambique] (Lisbon: Edições 70, 1985). Sopa includes 1,306 entries, as against Rocha's 1,000, but the difference is certainly even greater since Sopa does not cite variations in serial title (as opposed to changes of title) under separate entries. Sopa's indexes cover names of persons, and of titles in chronological order and under place of publication. These last two indexes allow for the reconstruction of historical and geographical patterns in periodical publishing in Mozambique. Entries are as complete as possible, and are based on autopsies of the serials themselves, thus correcting many of Rocha's errors. Sopa also includes long annotations on the character, politics and history of each serial. The catalogue was consulted during the compilation of this bibliography and proved invaluable.

Index

The index is a single alphabetical sequence of authors (personal and corporate), titles of publications and subjects. Index entries refer both to the main items and to other works mentioned in the notes to each item. Title entries are in italics. Numeration refers to the items as numbered.
